

Appointment      Wong Ngit Liong Professorship in Science

Position Description

Yale-NUS College is a liberal arts and sciences college with approximately 1000 students and 110 full-time faculty. The College is a collaboration between Yale University and the National University of Singapore. Yale-NUS students are intellectually outstanding, with an acceptance rate of less than 7%, and internationally diverse, representing over seventy countries. They go through a unique and rigorous Common Curriculum in the sciences, social sciences and humanities that combines Western and Eastern traditions with contemporary skills.

The College invites applications for a visiting (1-3 years duration) or full-time (tenured) endowed professorship position in science. Application by established academics with an international reputation in any scientific discipline are encouraged. Preference may be given to those who show clear potential for collaborative interaction with existing faculty or are engaged in inter-disciplinary inquiry. A demonstrated commitment to pedagogical excellence and innovation is also required. Relevant career experience in a liberal arts and sciences environment would be advantageous.

Applicants should have a relevant PhD and demonstrate an outstanding research and teaching track record in their field.

The incoming faculty member would join a committed team dedicated to the development and teaching of majors in Environmental Studies, Life Sciences, Mathematical, Computational and Statistical Sciences, and Physical Science (<https://www.yale-nus.edu.sg/curriculum/majors/>). The appointee would also be expected to engage with our flagship Common Curriculum (see <http://www.yale-nus.edu.sg/curriculum/common-curriculum>).

The appointee will be expected to begin duties in time for the start of the 2021-2022 academic year (i.e. from July 2021) or sooner.

Faculty receive internationally competitive salaries and start-up grants as well as a yearly travel and research allowance, and are able to access additional funding from Yale-NUS, the National University of Singapore and Singapore's Ministry of Education. Most faculty qualify for highly subsidized faculty housing. Yale-NUS College is located in Singapore, a multicultural city of six million at the heart of a vibrant region.
